To Whom It May Concern:

I am an APDT certified dog trainer since 2008. I have known Jeff Coltenback for the last four years and deeply respect his training abilities and genuine care for all dogs. As a matter of fact, in several instances, I have referred people to him for training and welfare needs. In these situations every result has been a positive one. I have four rescues of my own and can tell you that for many reasons I would take every step not to board them anywhere overnight. One exception to this would be that, if necessary, Jeff would be one of the few people I would trust to take the proper care of my beloved canines. It should also be noted that in 2008 I rescued a dog from the Bloomfield shelter. Shelby, a pit bull mix, is now a certified therapy dog and continues to thrive and make a difference in society.

I understand that there is a dog who needs to find a forever home that is now in the Bloomfield shelter. I can very easily say that Jeff Coltenback is an extremely qualified candidate to help this dog in need.

If you need to contact me, please don't hesitate to call me on XXX-XXX-XXXX.

Respectfully,

Joe Dwyer
